Hi folks,

It's the final week before a well earned Midterm break for everyone. There are a lot of things being celebrated this week so I've included something for Internet Safety Day on Tuesday, Chinese New Year on Friday and Valentines Day on Sunday. We will also have our Wellness Wednesday Activity during the week. You'll notice I've only given the core subjects that day.

As always I'll be uploading videos each day for your Maths and Irish activities so please make sure to watch these before attempting your work. If at any point you don't understand a topic or a step in a sum, please drop me a message on Seesaw and I can get back to you with voice message or video.

Enjoy your weekend and we'll chat to you all again on Monday

Regards,

Colm
